As Reports of Deaths After COVID Vaccines Near 16,000, CDC Urges Pregnant Women to Get the Vaccine

VAERS data released Friday by the CDC included a total of 752,803 reports of adverse events from all age groups following COVID vaccines, including 15,937 deaths and 105,758 serious injuries between Dec. 14, 2020 and Sept. 24, 2021.

Data released Friday by the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) showed that between Dec. 14, 2020 and Sept. 24, 2021, a total of 752,803 adverse events following COVID vaccines were reported to the Vaccine Adverse Event Reporting System (VAERS). The data included a total of 15,937 reports of deaths — an increase of 551 over the previous week.

There were 105,758 reports of serious injuries, including deaths, during the same time period — up 6,348 compared with the previous week.

Excluding "foreign reports" filed in VAERS, 581,851 adverse events, including 7,215 deaths and 45,952 serious injuries, were reported in the U.S. between Dec. 14, 2020 and Sept. 24, 2021.

Of the 7,215 U.S. deaths reported as of Sept. 24, 11% occurred within 24 hours of vaccination, 16% occurred within 48 hours of vaccination and 29% occurred in people who experienced an onset of symptoms within 48 hours of being vaccinated.

In the U.S., 388.2 million COVID vaccine doses had been administered as of Sept. 24. This includes: 223 million doses of Pfizer, 151 million doses of Moderna and 15 million doses of Johnson & Johnson (J&J).

The data come directly from reports submitted to VAERS, the primary government-funded system for reporting adverse vaccine reactions in the U.S.

Every Friday, VAERS makes public all vaccine injury reports received as of a specified date, usually about a week prior to the release date. Reports submitted to VAERS require further investigation before a causal relationship can be confirmed.

Historically, VAERS has been shown to report only 1% of actual vaccine adverse events.

ORDER TODAY: Robert F. Kennedy, Jr.'s New Book — 'The Real Anthony Fauci'

This week's U.S. data for 12- to 17-year-olds show:

- 20,907 total adverse events, including 1,256 rated as serious and 21 reported deaths. Two of the 21 deaths were suicides. The most recent deaths involve a 17-year-old male (VAERS I.D. 1689212) with cancer who was vaccinated April 17, tested positive for COVID on July 20, was hospitalized and passed away Aug. 29; and a 16-year-old female (VAERS I.D. 1694568) who died from a pulmonary embolism nine days after receiving her first Pfizer dose.

  Other recent reported deaths include two patients [VAERS I.D. 1655100] who died after their second dose of Pfizer, including a 13-year-old female, a 15-year-old boy (VAERS I.D. 1498080) who previously had COVID, was diagnosed with cardiomyopathy in May 2021 and died four days after receiving his second dose of Pfizer's vaccine when he collapsed on the soccer field and went into ventricular tachycardia; and a 13-year-old girl (VAERS I.D. 1505250) who died after suffering a heart condition after receiving her first dose of Pfizer.

- 3,151 reports of anaphylaxis among 12- to 17-year-olds with 99% of cases attributed to Pfizer's vaccine.
- 516 reports of myocarditis and pericarditis (heart inflammation) with 508 cases attributed to Pfizer's vaccine.
- 112 reports of blood clotting disorders, with all cases attributed to Pfizer.

This week's U.S. VAERS data, from Dec. 14, 2020 to Sept. 24, 2021, for all age groups combined, show:

- 19% of deaths were related to cardiac disorders.
- 54% of those who died were male, 41% were female and the remaining death reports did not include gender of the deceased.
- The average age of death was 72.8.
- Of the 2,882 cases of Bell's Palsy reported, 50% were attributed to Pfizer vaccinations, 42% to Moderna and 8% to J&J.

- 626 reports of Guillain-Barré syndrome, with 40% of cases attributed to Pfizer, 32% to Moderna and 27% to J&J.
- 155,501 reports of anaphylaxis with 43% of cases attributed to Pfizer's vaccine, 50% to Moderna and 7% to J&J.
- 9,699 reports of blood clotting disorders. Of those, 4,195 reports were attributed to Pfizer, 3,524 reports to Moderna and 1,930 reports to J&J.
- 2,628 cases of myocarditis and pericarditis with 1,662 cases attributed to Pfizer, 858 cases to Moderna and 98 cases to J&J's COVID vaccine.

CDC issues 'urgent' alert for pregnant women to get COVID vaccines, despite thousands of reported adverse events

The CDC on Wednesday issued its strongest guidance to date urging pregnant women and those who recently gave birth to be vaccinated against COVID. A total of 161 pregnant women have died of COVID, the CDC said, including 22 deaths in August.

"CDC strongly recommends COVID-19 vaccination either before or during pregnancy because the benefits of vaccination outweigh known or potential risks," the agency said in a health alert. To date, only 31% of pregnant people have been vaccinated, the CDC said.

The CDC said COVID during pregnancy can cause preterm birth or sick babies that require intensive care. "Other adverse pregnancy outcomes, such as stillbirth, have been reported," the CDC said.

However, as of Sept 24, CDC VAERS data show 3,823 pregnant women have reported adverse events related to COVID vaccines, including 1,144 reports of miscarriage or premature birth — a far greater number than the statistics the CDC used to justify its "urgent" recommendation that pregnant woman get vaccinated.

Woman injured by COVID vaccine pleads with health agencies for help, as Pfizer pressures local news agency to kill story

In an exclusive interview with The Defender, 40-year-old Kristi Dobbs said she's spent nine months pleading with U.S. health agencies to research the neurological injuries she developed after receiving Pfizer's COVID vaccine, only to be ignored after she provided the National Institutes of Health (NIH) blood samples for research.

> #TheDefender Exclusive Interview: Kristi Dobbs recounted how she's spent 9 months pleading w/health agencies to research neurological injuries she developed after Pfizer's vaccine + how she is trying to get word out about vaccine's potential risks.https://t.co/WFyuobbEFF

> — Robert F. Kennedy Jr (@RobertKennedyJr) October 1, 2021

Dobbs received her first and only dose of Pfizer's COVID vaccine on Jan. 18, and has been unable to work and care for her family since. Dobbs has seen 16 different medical providers and tried 22 different medications to address more than 20 different symptoms — none of which she had prior to getting vaccinated.

Dobbs' symptoms include full-body paresthesia, internal tremors/vibrations, fatigue, brain fog, muscle pain and weakness, pelvic pain, irregular menstrual cycles, skin rashes, tinnitus, temperature regulation issues, swollen lymph nodes, loss of appetite, weight loss, dizziness/balance issues, blood pressure regulation issues, neck pain, headaches, heart palpitations, convulsions at night and insomnia.

Although NIH officials acknowledged in communications to Dobbs they were aware of neurological injuries being reported in people after receiving COVID vaccines, they have not published the data they've collected to the scientific community as promised, so that people like Dobbs can find effective treatments.

Dobbs said she and others who developed neurological injuries after a COVID vaccine shared their experiences with a reporter in hope of raising awareness. But the story never ran because, according to the reporter, a "higher up" at Pfizer pressured the news agency to drop it.

Pfizer submits data for 5- to 11-year-olds to FDA

Pfizer and BioNTech on Tuesday submitted initial trial data for their COVID vaccine in children ages 5 to 11, and said they would make a formal request to U.S. regulators for emergency use in the coming weeks — though they had previously targeted submitting the application as early as the end of September.

If Pfizer does not finish its application until mid-October, the FDA may not make its decision until sometime between Halloween and Thanksgiving, according to a source familiar with the matter.

The Pfizer-BioNTech vaccine was rapidly authorized for the 12-15 age group roughly a month after the companies filed for authorization. If the same timeline is followed for this application, younger children could start receiving their shots as soon as late October, Reuters reported.

Tennis pro ends season due to COVID vaccine injury

Professional tennis player Jeremy Chardy — formerly ranked 25th in the world — said his 2021 season is over thanks to a "series of problems" he experienced after getting a COVID vaccine between the Olympics and U.S. Open.

Chardy, 34, said since receiving his vaccine he suddenly couldn't train or play, and needs more time to care for himself to ensure he doesn't have health problems returning to the court too soon.

Chardy told AFP he was suffering from movement-limiting pain — which caused violent pains all over his body as soon as he made any physical effort. Chardy said he regrets taking the vaccine, but he couldn't have known.

NBA players stand firm against COVID vaccines

A few high-profile NBA players who are part of the remaining 10% of players who have not received a COVID vaccine are making headlines as they defend their position not to get vaccinated.

On Monday, at Orlando Magic Media Day, Jonathan Isaac, who has already had COVID, answered questions about his decision not to get the vaccine — a decision that potentially could lead to missing games based on the NBA's protocols in various cities.

Isaac said he is not anti-vax, anti-science or anti-medicine, but he is uncomfortable with taking the vaccine at this time, and it is his belief that every person should have the right to make their own choice about whether or not to get the vaccine — without bullying, being pressured or forced to do so.

Bradley Beal, a guard for the Washington Wizards, and Andrew Wiggins, a forward for the Golden State Warriors, said they also had not received COVID vaccines.

Beals, who has already had COVID, cited personal reasons for his refusal but questioned reporters on breakthrough cases, natural immunity and the vaccine's inability to prevent COVID. Wiggins said his decision not to get vaccinated is a private matter.

Breakthrough COVID cases surge as Harvard moves classes online and Broadway's 'Aladdin' canceled

A Broadway performance of Disney's "Aladdin" was canceled Wednesday due to COVID breakthrough cases within the company, producers said — just one night after the show had resumed for the first time since the pandemic shutdown.

All of New York's 41 Broadway theaters require eligible audiences, crews, performers and other staff to be vaccinated against COVID, according to the Broadway League's policy.

Harvard Business School is pivoting back to remote learning as the first semester of 2021 begins, due to a "steady rise" in breakthrough COVID cases. Harvard University said on its website 95% of students and 96% of employees are vaccinated.

Several states are reporting a rise in breakthrough cases, including Massachusetts — which reported 4,378 new COVID cases in fully vaccinated individuals between Sept. 18 and Sept. 25 — Oregon, which said 23% of new cases ending Sept. 18 occurred in the fully vaccinated and Indiana, which reported more than 33,851 breakthrough cases since vaccines were authorized for emergency use in Dec. 14, 2020.

Data from the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) show as of Sept. 20, 19,136 patients were hospitalized or died despite being fully vaccinated — a number the agency acknowledges is an undercount of all SARS-CoV-2 infections among fully vaccinated persons.

Children's Health Defense asks anyone who has experienced an adverse reaction, to any vaccine, to file a report following these three steps.

If only 1% of injuries and deaths are being reported, then there are 1,600,000 deaths from the vaccines and 76,000,000 Injuries. This would explain the extreme cover up by social media and the MSM and our government.

Hi.
I've worked with public for 20yrs, I don't recall people ever telling me about reactions to the flu vaccine or actually seeing injured people.

However, I'm seeing my customers reduced to wheelchairs, and constantly hearing about all sorts of health problems after vaccination.

We've got a uphill battle though as the general public are both ignorant and brainwashed...I try and break that link to MSM by informing them of the global rapsheet held by big pharma.

I should also point out that a well developed theory of disease called "cellular theory" makes more sense than germ theory and immediately invalidates vaccination.

Vaccines don't work except as a lucrative business model that serves to enrich big pharma thru vaccine sales and ongoing pharmaceutical usage after vaccine injury.

Robert Kennedys book "tobacco science and the thimerosal scandal", along with what I know proves to me that vaccines are the cause of many diseases including autism, ADD, and SIDS to name just a few.

I have had horrible reactions to the flu vaccines, I did not take any last flu season and will not take one this year. I have learned that about 5,000 people die every year from the flu vaccines. There is no such thing as one size fits all in medicines.

My children and I stopped the flu vaccination several years ago - it seemed that they were getting sick more often during the winters. After no flu vaccines, they each got maybe one cold per school year (some twice - usually at the end of the winter). Once I pulled my kiddos from public school 1 1/2 years ago, not one of us has been sick.

Yes. I began to learn the truth about the vaccine industry in 1993.

Louis Pasteur and John Rockefeller and their fellows created a profit-driven death industry. Even where vaccines do not maim or kill, they compromise the innate immune system.

Antoine Bechamp and Terrain Theory opposed Louis Pasteur and Microbe Theory. Bechamp was right; Pasteur was wrong.

But one cannot patent Nature for profit. Ask monopolist John "Competition Is A Sin" Rockefeller, the world's first billionaire, who created the monster of Big Pharma.

What appalls me the most is how effective the propaganda has been in suppressing the truth - to the point that most conservatives who believe in a Creator of our unalienable rights thank God for something that inherently violates his Creation.

It is that passive, unquestioning acceptance of de facto medical tyranny by those on both the left and the right that has led us to this disaster.

If vaccines were generally safe and effective, then there would be no need for a unique Vaccine Court, which exists solely to protect Big Pharma by paying damages unique Vaccine Court, which exists solely to protect Big Pharma by paying damages for harm or death due to vaccines, at taxpayer's (read: victim's) expense.

I predict that their plan to exterminate part of the population, make Gates and BigPharm much wealthier, and have control through fear-mongering and changing the goal post using this bioweapon has emboldened them and they already have or will soon have another even deadlier "virus" they will unleash. That will be after the people settle down a little and falsely believe things are finally getting "back to normal". Getting back to the way life was before is not their agenda.

Absolutely agree. I believe this is all part of the great reset program being implemented by the super wealthy elites, big Pharma, and world banking under auspices of the UN, to reduce population. Bill Gates preached on this at a conference at Davos many years ago. The Rothschilds Foundation funded a huge plan that has changed names over the years. I think it is now called “2030”. That’s the year they plan to have the world population reduced by 50%. The plan used to be on line but I can’t find it anymore. Rothschilds site has been changed dramatically in just the last couple of years, so most of the truly outrageous crap has been removed.

Bill Gates has close ties to the Rockefellers; as did his father before him (head of Eugenics!). In fact - he is actually the one running this entire PsyOps, from behind the scenes. The fortunes of Gates, Fauci and the rest of the usual suspects will increase https://originalrebel.net/2...

I just read this off of unite4truth:

Society as a whole is simply not prepared for the "game" they have always been living in...the fact that their whole lives have been orchestrated and controlled--systematically.

Anything can be twisted--it really does depend on what's in the person/s heart/s..."good" people simply don't want to believe the "worst" is happening at the hands of people who have been glamorized and held up as the epitome of success...as we know, it doesn't help when the president who was supposed to be saving you from the wreaking ball of democracy that was in office previously, is now at the helm of the continued destruction...destruction of any sense of good and normal in our lives...people are left with nothing to hold on to and they can't stand to not "know" something in order to feel secure...so, they just decide and that's that.

Isthisthingon. Have you tried showing them that 60 Minute clip from back in 1976 when the head of the CDC lied and at govt's behest pushed the Swine flu shot on everyone? Mike Wallace made him admit that there had not been even one confirmed case in the whole world. Caught him lying and covering up that they knew it could cause neurological damage and at the last minute they switched the shot out for another that had never been tested. I have addressed the Swine Flu shot con job...it just doesn't equate to them that this could be a con on such a massive scale...the preliminary work the powers that be did with putting Trump in to office to blow the norms up and scare the hell out of everyone and then put Biden in to put us all back together again as the great white hope, simply doesn't allow for them to see the con--they are just worn out and down...even if some see something isn't adding up, the herd mentality along with the fact that they are already stabbed and they stabbed their kids isn't allowing them to admit they were hoodwinked and now being used to hoodwink others...the game continues...then there is the element of total indemnity to the poison makers and administers, etc. --which really, should have been anyone's first clue of the con job; but, ya know, vaccines are so important to human health that if the poison makers are too burdened with lawsuits, they will stop making these very important poisons, blah blah blah. Crazy Town USA!

I was looking at VAERS years ago and while the flu shot was one of the worst and did kill people, it was never hundreds of thousands, or even thousands. Obama started the masking of nurses and it was used as a shaming tool when they refused to get a flu shot. He gave hospitals, etc, money for every nurse they made get the damn thing. There are a lot more of us than you think because msm always tries to make us out as lone fringe oddballs but until a few weeks ago it was 51% not getting it in this country. Kennedy said that the real money made by pharma comes after all of the childhood shots because as they reach adulthood they will get asthma or diabetes, auto immune disease, and so on. This gives them a customer for life and is worth way more than the shots. New disease Lewy Body. Combination Parkinson's and Alzheimer's. My dad died from it. Like a 4 yr horror movie. Wisdom and common sense is something that many of these types do not have. One would think they would yet it's not the case.

Not to put the intelligent down by any means. It's just that the more intelligent among us are less likely to go by instinct and follow what they are being told.

Yes, but that is not a native intelligence, it is a learned one. Native intelligence is innate and proceeds from instincts and senses.
IT is at work when I run from or smack anyone as violates the integrity of my skin, of my being.

It's what made my eight year old suddenly wrap her elbow around her four year old sister's neck to disable and lift her right up when she was about to hurt herself. I never did that!!
Native intelligence was at work when my 2 yr. old snuck up behind me while I was doing dishes and starting biting a chunk out of my thigh. She ended up on the opposite wall rather immediately, much to both our surprise!!! Far as I know, she never tried biting anyone again.
Native mammallian intelligence compels us to test our limits with those who love and will not hurt us.
